

Department : Physiology

Symposium & Seminar : Other than attending various CME

- Department is conducting undergraduate seminar in unique way. The students are required to present in Oral presentation with the use of Chalk and Talk, PowerPoint/ Excel presentation for development computer skills. Poster presentation for developing conference presentation skills. Dimaag Se. section is brain storming and Dil Se section is enjoyed much by student.

Department of Physiology has developed Linguistic Skill Development Lab for the linguistic skills in English and Vernacular Language too. Department understands that college is situated in backward but fast developing state Chhattisgarh. Here students come from remote area who have talent but because of language problem the talent of these students remain unexplored.

Department takes special effort and conduct interactive sessions once in a week where students are encouraged for breaking language barrier and interact with teachers to solve their problems.
